

Introduction to the Center for Advanced Medical Technology

Siemens Medical Solutions is proud to announce the opening of our newest customer training facility in scenic Salt Lake City, Utah. By teaming with the University of Utah's College of Health Arts, we will be able to offer our customers even more opportunities to expand their clinical experience and develop their technical skills with Siemens newest CT and MR technology.

December 2003 launched the inaugural session of the newest facility to join the Siemens/ University of Utah family. Each class will present radiologic technologists and physicians with the newest software releases, technical advancements and hands-on labs that brings classroom theory to life.

Location

The Center for Advanced Medical Technology is located in the heart of the University of Utah campus in Salt Lake City, Utah. Minutes from the airport and picturesque Park City, renowned for world class skiing and outdoor activities.
